

Crypto is one of the flagship IACR conferences, held annually, and the original flagship conference. It is attended by the top cryptographers in academia and industry from all over the world. We expect an exciting lineup of cryptographic results that will have impact on a broad range of participants.

The IACR is a non-profit organization and the expenses for all IACR conferences are paid for by registration fees and sponsorships from institutions such as your company. For past editions of the conference, sponsors have used the opportunity to advertise, recruit, network, or to simply support the progress in the field. Sponsorship funds will be used to ensure technical support, conference catering, and a safe and reliable environment for driving research and information sharing for the field of cryptography. Furthermore, we invite sponsors to join our new acceleration and inclusion effort, aimed at fully covering student attendee registration, expanding support for inclusion and diversity facilities, and support for workshops, extending past general conference support.

Below we list some of the benefits that your company can enjoy as a corporate sponsor of CRYPTO'23:

- Prominent display of logo on the CRYPTO'23 website (cf. <https://crypto.iacr.org/2023/sponsors.php>).
- Prominent display of logo at the conference during breaks.
- Verbal thanks at the conference opening.

Sponsorship levels:

- Crypto Acceleration and Inclusion sponsor, from $20,000
 - Comes with two free registrations
 - A special call out at the conference opening as an acceleration and inclusion sponsor.
- Gold sponsor, from $15000
 - Comes with two free registrations
- Silver sponsor, from $6,000 and up to next level
 - Comes with one free registration
- Bronze sponsor, from $2000

Should you wish to discuss any further context, feel free to ask the general chair.